

ROYAL BAKING POWDER

Absolutely Pure

The only Baking Powder made from Royal Grape Cream of Tartar

NO ALUM, NO LIME PHOSPHATE

I. C. R. R. LOCAL TIME CARD.

SOUTH BOUND
290. Louisville Express	11:55 am
291. Louisville Express	12:40 pm
292. Louisville Express	1:25 pm
293. Louisville Express	2:10 pm
294. Louisville Express	2:55 pm
295. Louisville Express	3:40 pm
296. Louisville Express	4:25 pm
297. Louisville Express	5:10 pm
298. Louisville Express	5:55 pm
299. Louisville Express	6:40 pm
300. Louisville Express	7:25 pm
NORTH BOUND
301. Louisville Express	7:10 am
302. Louisville Express	7:55 am
303. Louisville Express	8:40 am
304. Louisville Express	9:25 am
305. Louisville Express	10:10 am
306. Louisville Express	10:55 am
307. Louisville Express	11:40 am
308. Louisville Express	12:25 pm
309. Louisville Express	1:10 pm
310. Louisville Express	1:55 pm

Local Mention.

The Earth Mother.

The wise old Mother lets man play a while—
Even as a child with toys—about the earth.
Ere she shall welcome back, with sweet, slow smile,
The foolish one to whom her throes gave birth.
Tug at his tether as he may, he knows,
Deep in his heart that she is always by;
He feels her presence underneath the snows,
And in the rain of autumn hears her sigh.
The thrill of spring, and summer's tittle tattle,
Remind him of her breathing breast;
The sea
Is her surest, and where the maples flame,
She goes forth decked in mood of piousantry.
The more he strays, the longer battles grim
With foes or friends, playing man's shifting role,
The surlier doth there slow uprise in him
The yearning to come back and ease his soul—
To take her hands, and look into her face
And kiss her forehead, while he hears her say:
"Welcome, my dear, to the old, wooded place,
Welcome to love, and sleep, and holiday."
Give us your job work.

The circus has come and gone.
No trouble for us to get rain now.
Visiting autos are here frequently.
The policeman will get you if you don't cut your weeds.

Messrs. D. J. Duncan and C. W. Roark are in Louisville at the Fair.

The State Fair is this week drawing many Kentuckians to Louisville.

Give Miss Lena Arnold your laundry; goods called for and delivered.

Mrs. Jennie E. Roark spent Tuesday in Nortonville with her sister Mrs. T. J. Morgan.

Monday is general inspection day, and unless your weeds are cut a warrant will be issued against you.

Judge J. C. Jonson has been confined to his home for a week, but is improved considerably, and will soon be out, it is hoped.

Mr. John H. Farmer, of Dawson Springs, was here a few days this week, and has arranged to return here with his family.

For a first-class shave, up to date hair cut, electric massage, good shoe shine, hot, cold and shower baths, go to Sam R. Martin's barber shop, near the Max Weir corner.

The Women's Auxiliary of the Y. M. C. A. will hold its regular monthly meeting in the reading room of the Y. M. C. A., Tuesday, Sept. 19th, at 2:30 p. m. All members are urged to be present.

Mr. and Mrs. O. C. Roll are in Louisville this week with relatives.

Mr. Robert Shaver and family spent Sunday at the home of Mr. Bishop Rice, in town.

With the Beattie case settled satisfactorily, and Col. Astor happily married, we may now be able to get some news that is edifying.

Notice to File Claims.

All persons having claims against the estate of G. P. Jeffries, deceased, are notified to present the same to me properly proven, on or before Oct. 1, 1911, for settlement.

This Aug. 29, 1911.

THOS. E. SUMNER, Adm'r.

Warning! Cut Your Weeds.

Beginning Monday the city authorities will proceed against all persons who have allowed weeds and other unsanitary and unsightly matter to accumulate in and around their premises. Proclamations and notices have been tried, but many persons have failed to heed them, and since the visit of the state sanitarian it has been determined to have his suggestions carried out. There will be a close examination made in all sections of town, and all persons who have failed to put their premises in proper shape will be proceeded against.

Give your job printing orders to THE RECORD.

Sun Bros. Show Here Yesterday.

Sun Bros circus and managerie spread tent here yesterday for the third time during the past few years and were greeted by a large crowd that was held down considerably by the weather. The show is clean, inviting and pleasing, and the absence of fakirs is one of its most commendable features. The owners have one of the biggest small shows on the road, and the acts are quite up to latter day standards.

Porch swing settees in various lengths and finishes at Roark's.

Reports from the State Fair indicate great growth and diversity of attractions, and at the rate of progress the management is making, we shall in a short while have as instructive and beneficial a fair as is maintained by any state—and nothing is more important.

Modern Version.

$$$$
$$$$
$$$$
$$$$$$$$$$$$
$$$$$$$$$$$$
$$$$
$$$$
$$$$
$$$$
$$$$
$$$$

"The Sign of the Cross."

Give us your job work.

Farmers' Telephones.

A dollar a month does not go far enough after it gets into the telephone company's treasury to satisfy the manager who has to pay the upkeep and operating expenses on a big rural line system, and keep a little small change to hand over to stockholders once in six months. He has to cut too many corners, and run too many chances of getting caught short of a bank balance by a sleet storm, or a law suit.

Twelve dollars a year is too low for farmers' line service on the average system, with the quality and cost improved as it has been in the last few years. It is time to start after this rate. The farmers can afford to pay more—why should they not be induced to recognize value received?

Of course we know what the farmers do when it is proposed to raise the telephone rate. But can this go on forever? What is the best way to get this thing into better shape? Some have done it already. Telephone. (The Independent Telephone Journal.)

Wm. S. Fox Commits Suicide.

Mr. Wm. S. Fox, one of the most widely known men in Muhlenberg, committed suicide in his home at Paradise last Friday afternoon by shooting himself in the back of the head with a revolver. He had recently returned from a sanitarium, where he had taken a cure for the whiskey habit, and appeared to be completely relieved, getting along splendidly. It is supposed that he became deranged, as he shot at his wife once or twice, without cause or warning. She ran from her home to that of a neighbor, returning with help in a few moments, before they reached the house heard a pistol shot, and found the dead body. The affair is a shocking one, and has caused wide sorrow. Deceased was a fine business man, had many friends, and will be missed in his community.

Needles for all sewing machines at Roark's.

Jefferson Davis Highway.

The whole country, and particularly western Kentucky, is deeply interested in the proposed Jefferson Davis Highway. At a meeting held in Hopkinsville last Saturday representative men from these parts made and listened to rousing addresses, and the route from Hopkinsville to Bowling Green was selected, passing the Davis old home, of course. The counties west are planning to continue the boulevard to Paducah, and there is much rivalry, with liberal money donations pledged, as to the most feasible way. No better memorial to a dead man or gift from a live one could be provided than a good road, over which his fellow-man could quickly and comfortably travel. Seven such highways are projected from Washington City, some of them reaching thousands of miles, and it is hoped the local spirit will so enlarge this that in a few years we may have a network of highways that will be a pleasure and a source of wealth to the whole country.

Swing settees for porches at Roark's.

Messrs. Buren Martin, J. T. Chatham and Matt Wickliffe are attending the State Fair.

Ed How's Country Town Sayings.

A woman who does a great deal of housework has a trot that is acquired in no other way.

The prettiest woman in the United States, many men believe, has her face on the silver dollar.

After a woman passes 30 it doesn't matter much how old she is.

All the business in fact in a woman's nature seems to be devoted to paying off a church debt.

My idea of a coward is a man who won't fight when he is drunk.

Most ministers are too willing to allow strangers to stike their congregations for a collection.

When a man is discharged his wife thinks it was because he was too honest to suit his employer.

Every man is thought to be good looking by some woman of poor taste.

The faith cure goes too far one way; allopathy goes too far the other.

When a woman writes a letter, she is apt to put poetry in it and the exclusion of news.

Get your business rival into politics and keep out yourself.

Look out for the people who call on you to trade their half dollars for your dollars.

If you mean well, as an evidence of good faith you should occasionally do something well.

So many do not succeed that they are able almost to make success discreditable.

If you want that dead watch or clock put to work, let me have it and he will put it to running.

How to Get Rich.

"Early to bed,
Early to rise,
Work like the dickens
And Advertise."

You often hear married women say: "I was married at sixteen." But I never knew a girl to be married at sixteen. Did you?

When it comes to Greek or Latin or Algebra, there may be school teachers who can beat you, but when it comes to practical knowledge, you may be superior to them, if you are observing and have a good head.

After a woman has been married a year or so there is this sort of a look on her face: "I wish I had known some things sooner."

What's to hinder married women looking as well as widows?

When a man says "the best people" are of a certain opinion, he is really expressing his own thoughts.

A lazy man nearly always drifts into politics, or into the lodge business.

Down in every woman's heart is a longing to be loved as women are loved on the stage.

The backbone of a chicken always reminds me of a rocking chair that has been placed in batter and fried.

Everyone seems to be looking for some one to work for him who will see what needs to be done, without being told.

I never knew a circus to divide, but did you ever hear of a circus that was not charged with it?

The most useful people are those who quietly teach temperance, honesty, industry and justice by example, and at the same time do something for the communities in which they live.

Let me fix your clock.

CIRCUIT COURT.

Circuit court is grinding tight along, and by day and night sessions the business is being disposed of according to docket. It is likely that the session will close by the middle of next week.

J. T. Hendricks, vs. L. & N. R. Co. obtained a judgment of $3,500 for false arrest.

Willis & Meredith obtained a judgment of $1,500 against the Elk Valley Coal Mining Co. for a fee.

Arthur Baker was awarded a judgment of $500 against the Crescent Coal Co. for personal injuries.

J. G. Hendricks, administrator of Genevieve Hendricks, secured a $400 verdict against the American Express Co. for failure to deliver a tank of oxygen.

Roll, Morton & McCord were given a judgment of $905.81 against the Black Diamond Coal & Mining Co. on an account.

Drakesboro Coal, Coke & Mining Co. vs. Black Diamond Mining Co. were given $50 on account.

Tolpha Robinson secured a judgment against J. E. Rice for $81 on warranty of a cow.

The case of J. H. Reed vs. L. C. R. Co. was dismissed on peremptory instructions. In a former trial Mr. Reed was awarded a judgment of $6,500, but was reversed by the Court of Appeals. On this retrial it developed that no new proof was to be introduced, so the judge ordered the case dismissed.

In the case of the Greenville Milling Co. vs. the I. C. R. R. Co. for damages caused by fire, Judge Sandidge overruled the motion of the defendant for the transfer of the case to the U. S. District Court.

Caldwell & Greer were given a judgment of $5,000 against the Elk Valley Coal & Mining Co. on a note.

Facts and Fallacies About Tuberculosis.

Although there are many things that we do not know about consumption, or tuberculosis, there are some that we do and a few that we are in the act of learning.

We do not know, for example, what makes for susceptibility and what for immunity. Strong and robust persons are sometimes stricken down with it; invalids and convalescents from other diseases are no more susceptible to it than are other people, and it is possible to live for an entire lifetime in the condition known as "run down" or "weak" without becoming tuberculous.

People still speak of consumption as "inherited," but it is not inherited. A child may be born with a certain tendency to it, but if proper measures are taken early enough, and kept up steadily and long enough, this tendency can be overcome. A child whose parents before them, perhaps for generations back, have been poor breathers, will probably inherit a small, meager chest, and will therefore be the natural victim of the consumption germ as soon as it reaches him. That child will have to be taught to breathe. The tendency to pigeon-breast can be overcome, and a narrow chest developed to normal capacity; but to do this, the child must be kept constantly in good air, and taught how to develop and use the lungs. A pigeon-breasted child who is being brought up on the coddling process—oversheltered, overfed and overclothed—is in as much danger as if he lived under the famous sword hanging from a hair.

Another long-lived fallacy, which is a great pet with many people, is that other diseases "run into" consumption. A man comes down with an attack of typhoid fever or pneumonia; after the attack is over his convalescence is slow and doubtful, finally, unmistakable signs of tuberculosis appear, and he says, "I had pneumonia, and it ran into consumption." But if he had been examined before the pneumonia started, he would have been found to be already consumptive; in fact, it would really be more sensible to say that his consumption "ran into pneumonia."

It must be remembered that consumption may be present a long time before the germs begin to appear in the expectoration. In spite of hygienic precautions, we must all come in contact with the germs of consumption many times in a lifetime. These germs we shall either breathe in or swallow. We cannot escape them. But there is an armor that is germ-proof. It is an invisible armor, woven of oxygen—fresh air.

Everything Tending Southward.

In the financial circles of New York and New England there is a growing sentiment that the South is to be the center of the greatest business and financial activity of the country. The leading bankers of the East, many of whom in former years were somewhat skeptical about the South as a field for investment, are now very free in admitting that this section is the most inviting field for investment. The change of sentiment is very pronounced. No one can mingle with the financial people of New York and Boston and other Eastern centers, as well as with those in smaller cities of the Middle and New England States, without being greatly impressed with the unanimity of sentiment as to the great prosperity ahead of the south. In portions of the West this sentiment is equally as pronounced. The men who led in the great colonization enterprises of the West and the Pacific Coast are now finding in the South a field for activity which is claiming their attention as never before. Scarcely a day passes without a report of the sale of some big tract of land to Western people for colonization, or for reclaiming, in order to prepare it for colonization work later on. No phase of Southern development in the last decade has been more striking than that which we now see in the purchase of large tracts of land in all portions of the South for settlement by Western people. It is one of the most interesting phases of American development. It means the utilization of millions of acres of land that have heretofore been practically valueless and the bringing into the South of tens of thousands of the better class of farmers from other sections.

As the financial people of the East and the colonization men of the West are looking to the South as the coming center of operations, so the manufacturers and the contractors and builders of the whole country are beginning to understand that this section is to offer the broadest field for activity in the country. Here great forces are concentrating for industrial upbuilding which will result in an enormous expansion of the manufacturing and mining and railroad interests of the South.

Scarlet Fever.

Scarlet fever or scarlatina—the names are synonymous, although often erroneously supposed to denote two distinct diseases—shares with diphtheria the unenviable distinction of being one of the two most dreaded and dreadful diseases of childhood. That is not to say that certain diseases are not more often fatal, but they are not so common, nor are they in general so likely to have serious consequences.

Scarlet fever is an infectious disease, although it is not known positively what germ causes it, nor is it always easy to trace the mode of infection.

An attack may begin in a variety of ways, but in general three forms are recognized. In the usual, and fortunately the mildest form, the disease begins with shivering or chilly feelings, sometimes a convulsion, fever, loss of appetite, vomiting, and often a sore throat. In twenty-four or forty-eight hours the rash appears. It is a general raspberry-colored eruption which disappears on pressure, and returns slowly, so that if the end of a penholder is drawn firmly over the skin a white line is made which persists for several minutes.

In another the first symptoms are the same, but more severe; and the signs of inflammation of the throat are marked. Inspection of the throat shows it to be very red, the mucous membrane often ulcerates, and it is frequently covered with a leathery looking membrane like that seen in diphtheria. The inflammation travels to the nose, and often to the ears, in which case it may cause permanent deafness. The child appears much more ill than in the simple form, a fact due to absorption of the poison produced by the bacteria in the throat.

In the worst form, malignant scarlet fever it is called, the attack is sudden, and the child is seen from the first to be very ill, the fever is high, the lips are blue, there is more or less drowsiness, and the little patient is evidently poisoned through and through. If he lives long enough for the rash to appear, it is not bright, as is the ordinary case, but dusky and not very extensive. This variety is really a form of blood poisoning, the bacteria themselves, and not merely their excreted poisons.

FIRST NATIONAL BANK.

at Greenville, in the State of Kentucky, at the close of business Sept. 1st, 1911.

REPORT OF CONDITION OF THE RESOURCES.

Loans and discounts	$708,421.00
Overdrafts, secured and unsec.	1,612.84
U. S. Bonds to secure circ. in.	30,000.00
Premiums on U. S. Bonds	309.00
Bonds, securities, etc.	67,081.33
Banking house, fur, and fixt.	11,000.00
Due from State and Private Banks & Bankers, Trust Co.'s and Savings Banks	8,814.15
Due from approved res. agts.	86,807.64
Checks and other cash items	5,775.68
Notes of other National Banks	1,160.00
Fractional paper currency, nickels, and cents	43.91
Lawful Money Reserve in Bank, viz: Specie	17,770.00
Legal-tender notes	1,500.00
Redemption fund with U. S. Treasurer (5 per cent. circulation)	1,500.00
TOTAL	$438,390.48

LIABILITIES.

Capital stock paid in	30,000.00
Surplus fund	17,000.00
Undivided profits, less expenses and taxes paid	1,053.10
Nat'l Bank notes outstanding	30,000.00
Due to other National Banks
Due to State and Private Banks and Bankers	4,183.91
Due to approved res. agts.	510.00
Dividends unpaid	228,551.10
Ind'l deposits sub. to check	128,166.07
Time certificates of deposit	4.00
Cashier's checks outstanding	24.10
Total	$438,390.48

State of Kentucky, County of Muhlenberg, ss: I, Jno. T. Reynolds, Jr., cashier of the above named bank, do solemnly swear that the above statement is true to the best of my knowledge and belief.

Jno. T. REYNOLDS, Jr., Cashier.

C. E. MARTIN, W. G. DEAN, W. A. WICKLIFFE, Directors.

Subscribed and sworn to before me this 29th day of Sept., 1911.

J. T. CHATHAM, Notary Public.

My commission expires Jan. 11, 1911.

WALTHAM WATCHES

now in use

We have a large assortment of WALTHAM Watches in Gold, Gold Filled, Silver and Nickel Cases.

A. E. MCCRACKEN.

Rheumatism

More than nine out of every ten cases of rheumatism are simply rheumatism of the muscles, due to cold or damp, or chronic rheumatism. In such cases no internal treatment is required. The free application of is all that is needed and it is certain to give quick relief. Give it a trial and see for yourself how quickly it relieves the pain and soreness. Price 25c; large size, 50c.

Chamberlain's Liniment

LUCKY CHIEF,
Registered Poland China Boar. Services at J. E. Coombs' farm at $1, due when service is rendered.

J. E. COOMBS, Greenville, Ky.

See Big Ben at Macks watch-making shop.

WE BUY WOOL HIDES AND FURS

Being Dealers, we can do better for you than agents or commission merchants. References: any bank in Louisville. We handle Wool Hops Free to our shippers. Write for price list.

M. SABEL & SONS, Louisville, Ky.